Morrison In Intensive Care After Friday Crash

Harry K. Morrison, 18 of Route 1, Greencastle was treated and admitted to intensive care at Putnam County Hospital late Friday afternoon after sustaining head injuries when his car went off the railroad overpass on West Walnut Street Road and was struck by a Penn Central Railroad train.

Morrison was westbound on West Walnut Street when his car struck the guard rail and went off the south end of the railroad bridge, landing between the east and west bound tracks, according to Deputy Sheriff Jim Adams. The car was then struck from the rear by a westbound Penn Central train and was drug approximately 16 train car lengths before the train could come to a halt.

Train personnel told the deputy Morrison got out the car by himself before they (the train personnel) reached him. Adams said the car was airborne for approximately 75 feet before landing between the tracks.

The car was a total loss and the train received minor damage. A railroad employee commented that the damage to the track itself almost caused a derailment.

Three Democrats File For Primary

Bicycle's Popularity Increasing

With spring-like weather already dominating several days and with gasoline prices on a seemingly endless climb, many people are preparing to do some shopping around for a new or used bicycle to ride to work and elsewhere.

Bicyclists' rights are now being recognized by federal and state governments. With the number of cyclists edging rapidly closer to the 100 million mark and the Congress passing a $120 million funding clause for bikeways, it is apparent that the bicycle is no longer being considered merely a toy, but rather a valuable transportation vehicle which is entitled to its legitimate place on the nation's roads.

The probable flood this spring of bicyclists who may not have been on the two-wheeled vehicle for quite a number of years and who are accustomed to getting to where they're going fast may lead to an increase in the number of traffic accidents involving bicycles.

This is one reason why new rules have been developed by the Bicycle Institute of America for safe bicycling. They were developed in conjunction with the National Safety Council and the Cub Scouts of America.

Bicycles may be registered at any time at the Greencastle Police Department on South Indiana Street. A description of the bicycle and the serial number are necessary for this procedure. Bicyclists may pick up registration cards and take them home to be filled out or may complete the forms at the station.

There are no 1974 license plates available at this time, according to police officers, and while the Fraternal Order of Police has in the past sponsored a bike show with films and safety literature, they have no plans yet for a show this year.

Safe Bike Driving Rules

1. Obey all applicable traffic regulations, signs signals and markings.
2. Observe all local ordinances pertaining to bicycle operation.
3. Keep right, drive with traffic, not against it. Drive single file.
4. Watch out for drain grates, soft shoulders and other road surface hazards.

5. Watch out for car doors opening, or for cars pulling out into traffic.
6. Don't carry passengers or packages that interfere with your vision or control.
7. Never hitch a ride on a truck or other vehicle.
8. Be extremely careful at all intersections, particularly when making a left turn.

9. Use hand signals to indicate turning or stopping.
10. Protect yourself at night with the required reflectors and lights.
11. Drive a safe bike. Have it inspected to insure good mechanical condition.
12. Drive your bike defensively; watch out for the other guy.

Public Service To Help In Air Pollution Study

Public Service Indiana is one of six major Indiana electric utilities who are picking up the tab for a study of whether their generating plants cause serious air pollution.

Lt. Gov. Robert D. Orr announced Thursday Purdue University will conduct the $273,184 research project.

Researchers will measure at ground level concentrations of dust particles and sulfur dioxide from smokestacks of five power generating stations. Mobile monitoring facilities will gather data at the stations for a year to learn specific effects, if any, that smokestacks have at ground level where human and plant life exist.

The tests will be made at Public Service Indiana's Edwardsport station, Indiana and Michigan's Breed station at Fairbanks, Indianapolis Power and Light's E.W. Stout station, Northern Indiana Public Service's Michigan City station and Southern Indiana Gas and Electric's Warrick station at Newburgh.

These five utilities plus Hoosier Energy are financing the study.

Warrick burns only coal, Michigan City natural gas and coal, stout oil and coal, Breed coal only and Edwardsport coal and oil.

The study will be directed by Prof. Robert B. Jacko of the Purdue civil engineering department. He said collecting data and analyzing it will take 2½ years.

"It's time that we document this kind of fallout to determine whether it really is a problem or a strawman," Orr said. "Tremendous sums of money will have to be invested to meet existing environmental regulations and hopefully this study will determine how meaningful these regulations are."

Big Raccoon Petitioners To Appeal Judge's Decision

Petitioners to dissolve the Big Raccoon Conservancy District have announced they will file an appeal in Appellate Court in Indianapolis.

The appeal was required after petitioners learned that Putnam County Circuit Court Judge Francis Hamilton had denied their request for a retrial.

It was learned this week that the judge had made his ruling on Dec. 21 after a Dec.

5 hearing on oral arguments to correct what petitioners termed "errors" of law.

By law, the deadline to file an appeal is 30 days. However, according to a representative of the petitioners, the Appellate Court has the power to extend the deadline.

The request was filed because the Putnam County Circuit Court clerk failed to notify attorneys in the case regarding Judge Hamilton's decision as required by law.

Allen Named Best Teacher At DePauw

A 64-year-old professor of economics, Joseph P. Allen III, was named Best Teacher at DePauw University for 1973-74.

Allen, whose classroom forte is accounting, received the award from Kappa Tau Kappa, the campus inter-fraternity council, at the organization's Scholarship Banquet Thursday night.

Three fraternities shared the spotlight with Allen. Beta Theta Pi was awarded the massive scholarship trophy for the best overall grade average among fraternities. The group's members compiled a 3.01 average on a 4.00 scale. Second place went to Phi Kappa Psi and third place to Alpha Tau Omega.

The Inter-fraternity Council's inaugural Public Service Award was presented to the Sigma Chi fraternity for service to the campus and the community. The Sigma Chi were cited for sponsorship of a mathematics-science award at Greencastle High School, Big Brother parties for local children, and raising of nearly $2,000 for various charities.

Lambda Chi Alpha won the third fraternity award for the best pledge class grade average. Freshman members of Lambda Chi averaged 3.07. Sigma Chi was second and Beta Theta Pi was third.

Professor Allen has been a member of the DePauw economics department since he left his accounting firm in Crawfordsville in 1957. His DePauw students have consistently scored at the top in a national accounting test, finishing first as a group six times in the past seven years.

Announcement of the Best Teacher Award, chosen by vote of the members of the campus' 13 fraternities, was made by Reid Walker, president of the Council.

Feminism's Ripples Spread Across Country, Say Authors of Catalog

NEW YORK (AP) — Women are talking less and doing more about their own liberation, according to two feminist authors.

Susan Rennie and Kirsten Grimstad traveled 12,000 miles in less than three months compiling data about women's projects into "The New Woman's Survival Catalog." They call it a "woman-made" book because they, along with two associates, wrote, photographed illustrations, designed, typeset and pasted up the 223-page soft cover catalog.

"There's a tremendous ripple effect of the women's movement, a clicking happening all over in women's heads," said Ms. Grimstad. "Women from all backgrounds are focusing on their specific areas of agreement and working together, even if they deny being feminists."

The writers found women forming law firms and legal clinics; establishing businesses; running printing presses; starting credit unions, banks, art galleries and child care centers. They documented many of these activities for people who want to learn how to follow suit.

"Aside from providing an overall picture of interest for any woman from Boise to New Orleans, it offers tips on starting it yourself," added Ms. Rennie.

Genesis of the book was an interdisciplinary bibliography of women's studies which Ms. Grimstad was doing at the Barnard College Women's Center. She found that, to be consistent with her own values, she had to include activist projects along with established books. She sent thousands of questionnaires to women's organizations across the country, and was amazed by the replies.

Ms. Rennie was helping her proofread the bibliography, and was impressed with the tremendous energy that had spun off from what she termed movement rhetoric.

"So many people in New York at the time were saying that the women's movement was dying," Ms. Rennie added. "We'd say, 'Well, what do you mean? Do you know what's happening in Iowa or in California?' There was just no communication."

"We were deeply impressed with the activist projects that spun off from theoretical positions that were strong in New York. It is one of the healthiest phases of the movement."

Ms. Grimstad says women are integrating new feminist values into their lives along with new interests.

"It's a long, slow phase where women are getting it together. The self-help movement is incredible. And as more women get involved, oppression becomes clearer to them, and more realize what the feminist movement is and how important it is to them," Ms. Rennie added.

Declarer sometimes moves in mysterious ways his wonders to perform. If these gyrations prove successful, he finishes on top of the world, but, if he miscalculates the situation, his stock plummets and he may have a lot of explaining to do to an enraged partner.

Here is a case of the latter kind. West led a spade to the ace and East returned the jack, which held, followed by the seven. Declarer took the king, but the effect of East's plays of the A-J-7 in that order was to give South the fixed idea that East had started with three spades and West with five.

Based on this assumption, South played the hand with great efficiency. He cashed the ace of clubs, played a diamond to the king, West producing the jack, and led the jack of clubs. East showing out, declarer went up with the king, then played the king and another heart, successfully finessing the jack.

When he then cashed the ace of hearts, catching East's ten, South thought he had everything under control. Having placed West with five spades, four hearts and three clubs, he naturally assumed that West's jack of diamonds was a singleton.

Accordingly, with four tricks to go, he led the eight of diamonds from dummy, fully expecting to endplay East, who theoretically had the Q-10-6-5 at this point. But, alas, the actual position was this:

Three County Athletes Nominated For Honors

Three Putnam County athletes have been named to the Prep All-America Football program for 1973-74, as announced Thursday by the editors of COACH & ATHLETE Magazine.

They are Terry Tippin of North Putnam and Mike Devylder and Kim Jones of Greencastle.

Their selection to the Prep Honor Roll makes them eligible for judging in the Prep All-America Football National Awards-Prep 100 Squad, Super Eleven Team and Cum Laude. In cooperation with the Selection Committee, the National Finalists will be announced in the March issue of COACH & ATHLETE.

Nominations for the 1973-74 Prep Honor Roll were made last fall by high school coaches and athletic directors, college recruiters and sports writers across the country. They were asked to nominate candidates having the best record of local achievement on their teams in their areas. Criteria by which these local football players were nominated include: outstanding athletic ability based on career records, sportsmanship, leadership and service to team and community.

Sponsored by COACH & ATHLETE Magazine, the Prep All-America Football Program is an annual honor roll of outstanding football players from high school teams throughout the country. The purpose of the program is to promote and encourage, by means of national recognition, local sports accomplishment and individual athletic ability.

Each local winners' athletic achievements will be presented in the 1973-74 PREP ALL-AMERICA FOOTBALL Award Yearbook to be published in June. This publication is highly regarded by college coaches and scouts as a finger tip source for recruiting prospective athletes.

Eagles' Front Line

Craig Sibbitt, Jeff Burdge, Coach Goldsberry, Wayne Erwin, Gordon Knetzer

The last time a Putnam County team met Lebanon in the regional basketball tournament was 1970, when the Tigers defeated the Cougars of North Putnam in the first game at Frankfort, 91-83.

Today the South Putnam Eagles attempt to even up the score for the decade with the state's 8th ranked team, when they tackle the Tigers at noon in the Frankfort gym.

Eagle coach Tom Goldsberry opined yesterday that "we can win if we just play our ball game."

For most of the year, "our ball game" has been a combination of run and shoot with pattern ball of offense, while using a sagging 1-2-2 zone and an aggressive man-to-man on defense.

The run and shoot and 1-2-2 zone have been seen as rule by South Putnam opponents this year, with the patterns and man-to-man saved for special occasions.

Today many, indeed, be a special occasion. "We won't want to run; don't want to fire them up," said Goldsberry in reference to Lebanon's explosive squad.

The Tiger can be easily set off by their running game or their tenacious press, which has instilled fear in the hearts of foes and foes-to-be this year.

But not in Goldsberry's. "We can handle it," the Eagle mentor assures, thinking of his backcourt men, Daryl Mayo, Greg Hammond, and Rudy Briones. In addition, forward Craig Sibbitt has frequently turned in ball handling chores when the entire court was busy this season.

The Lebanon press comes on as a man-to-man, but features such an amount of double-teaming that it could pass as a zone press. Mainly it requires hustle and lot of work.

These ingredients could easily make Lebanon coach Jim Rosenstihl shelve the press for part of the game with the Eagles, as he looks forward to the evening's championship game, wanting his players to be fairly rested for it.

The Eagles would also like the Lebanon players to be rested for the championship game of the regional, so they won't get tired watching it from the stands.

As far as the rest of the South Putnam starters are concerned, Jeff Burdge got the stitches (six of them) taken out of his forehead Thursday, and is more than ready for the game today. The stitches resulted a cut received in the closing minutes of the sectional title game against Greencastle.

The Eagles' standout in that victory, Gordon Knetzer, has had a good week, according to Goldsberry, and is prepared to turn in another outstanding job.

If he and his teammates do come through to upset Lebanon, it will be the biggest thing for Putnam County since both Cloverdale and Bainbridge claimed regional crowns in 1966.

And speaking of regional crowns, at 8:30 tonight the winners of today's game will fight out the 1974 Frankfort regional title.

All of Putnam County is hoping that the Eagles will be in the thick of that fight.

Maryland Cruises To Semi-Finals Of A.C.C. Tourney

Maryland cruised into the semifinals of the Atlantic Coast Conference basketball tournament Thursday night and Terapins Coach Lefty Driesell liked what he saw.

"Our players think they can beat anyone in this tournament," declared Driesell after his team's 85-66 rout of Duke. "We're ready for anyone."

The Terps, ranked fourth nationally, meet North Carolina, rated sixth, tonight in one ACC semi. North Carolina State, ranked No. 1, goes against Virginia in the other semi. North Carolina eliminated Wake Forest 76-62 and Virginia got by Clemson 68-63 in other first-round games.

North Carolina State drew a bye.

John Lucas, Tom McMillen and Len Elmore were the main ingredients in the Maryland victory. Lucas had 20 points, McMillen 19 points and 13 rebounds, and Elmore 16 points and 17 rebounds. The Terps raced to 42-26 halftime lead and coasted to their 22nd win against four losses.

North Carolina Coach Dean Smith was pleased with his club's effort but wary of Maryland.

The Tarheels, also 22-4, were led by Darrell Elston with 21 points and Bobby Jones with 15 points and 12 rebounds.

Gus Gerard scored 30 points and Wally Walker 22 to help Virginia past Clemson.

The ACC finals will be played Saturday night with the winner getting an NCAA Tournament bid. The NCAA regionals also get underway Saturday. Penn meets Providence, St. Joseph's, Pa., faces Pittsburgh and Furman plays South Carolina in the East; Notre Dame goes against Austin Peay and Ohio University plays Marquette in the Midwest; Oral Roberts meets Syracuse and Texas faces Creighton in the Midwest; and Los Angeles State takes on Dayton and Idaho State meets New Mexico in the West.

Also, the Pacific Eight championship will be decided Saturday night when UCLA visits Southern California.

No. 18 Louisville was the only other top 20 team in action, the Cardinals dumping Detroit 89-74. Junior Bridgeman scored 22 points for the NCAA-bound winners who are 21-5.

Lionel Billings collected 19 points and 13 rebounds to lead Duquesne past Xavier of Ohio 73-40. It was the final game for Dukes Coach Red Manning who has been named athletic director. He retires after 16 years with a 247-138 record.

Also, Houston crushed Rice 107-62, and, in a double header at Madison Square Garden, Manhattan beat Fordham 81-76 and Seton Hall outlasted St. Peter's, N.J., 94-90 in double overtime to earn a bid to the National Invitation Tournament.

Good Care on Top Results In More $ on Bottom Line

Thinking about selling your house? A new roof could upgrade its appearance and resale value, especially if it offers prospective buyers low maintenance, long-term protection and beauty.

Today's premium quality asphalt shingles provide all three. They require little maintenance, are designed to last up to 25 years and are available in a wide selection of bold, heavy-textured earthtone colors that create a three-dimensional appearance.

In many cases, asphalt shingles can be installed over the existing roof providing an added saving in time and money in removing the old roofing material.

Once the new roof has been installed, don't neglect it. There are several tips on roof care you should follow until the sale of your home is completed.

• Keep gutters, downspouts and roof surfaces clear of fallen leaves, twigs and other debris so that water will drain easily and not back up.

• Never allow water from a downspout to pour directly onto the roof below. Keep the downspout connected to the gutter which drains the lower roof.

• Keep trees trimmed to prevent scuffing of the roof by branches or damage by falling limbs. Keep climbing roses, ivy or vines trimmed back.

• Don't walk on the roof. Not only is it dangerous, it can damage the shingles. When necessary for workmen to go on the roof, make sure they use walk boards, ladders, scaffolding or other suitable devices.

• When removing snow or ice from a roof, be careful not to damage the roof with whatever tools are used.

Here's the Answer

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Q. — I have never painted a room in my life, but expect to take the plunge soon. I have read that brushes used with oil paint can be suspended in turpentine if they are to be used again within a few hours or the next day. How can this be done without the bottom of the container and getting bent?

A. — There are several ways. One of the most popular is to drill a hole through the wooden handle and run a wire through the hole so that it can be placed on two sides of the can or pail or jar. Put only enough turpentine or mineral spirits in the container for most of the bristles to be covered. Another good method is to use one of the small metal clips sold in most hardware and paint stores. It fits on the edge of the can and holds the brush in place so that the bristles do not reach the bottom.

Q. — I bought some wood stain the other day after selecting the right color from a wood sample the dealer had on hand.

When I applied it to the object I was staining, it came out a lot darker. Why don't the dealers use a sample that shows the true color?

A. — The samples used by the dealer show the true colors of the stain on the particular pieces of wood being used. But stains take differently on different kinds of wood, although the general color is similar. What the user must do is to test the stain on a scrap piece of the same wood he is using in the project. If it is too dark, he knows that he must wipe it immediately after applying it to bring it to a lighter shade. If it is too light, he must leave it on somewhat longer. In other words, the intensity of the stain can be regulated by the amount of time it is left on the wood before being wiped.

Another method of regulation that is used with an oil stain is to add a little turpentine to make it lighter.

Q. — In fitting a door into an opening, how much space should be left at the top, bottom and sides?

A. — About 1-16th of an inch at the top and sides, about 3-8th of an inch at the bottom. In considering the clearance at the bottom, be sure to take into consideration any floor covering.

Q. — To settle a dispute, is the galvanized covering on metal gutters aluminum or paint?

A. — Neither. It's zinc.

WORRY CLINIC

By George W. Crane, Ph.D., M.D.

Note how Hal "sold" his son on taking a foreign language! See how Sen. Randolph wins his audiences via the wholesome humor appearing in QUOTE magazine each week. Then imitate Dr. Horton's superb public speaking technique!

CASE Z-572: Hal T., aged 36, is a popular radio announcer.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "I was very much impressed by your recent column in which you urged clergymen to use more humor."

"For I do a lot of speaking before luncheon clubs, PTA, etc."

"And I appreciate your recommendation of the weekly magazine called QUOTE."

"For I find more useful jokes therein than in any other medium."

"It helped me last week in a family argument, too."

"For my high school son was objecting to taking a foreign language, saying it had no practical value."

"So I recited the following little story from QUOTE magazine."

FROM QUOTE

A mother mouse and her little ones were suddenly confronted by a cat.

The mother mouse braced herself and said "Bow wow!"

The cat turned tail and fled.

The mother mouse turned to her children and said:

"Now you see how important it is to know a second language."

You language teachers in high school can employ that anecdote to good effect.

This weekly QUOTE magazine (Anderson, S.C.) contains 3 pages in each issue of rollicking jokes and anecdotes.

Moreover, they are clean, wholesome types of humor, quite appropriate for use by pastors in their sermons, as well as by other speakers.

For example, here's a dandy anecdote, that you can adapt to help illustrate the value of foresight and intelligent planning.

QUOTE magazine attributes it to Sen. Jennings Randolph, of West Virginia.

In the War Between the States, there was a general (I will not say in which Army) who massed his troops to repel the enemy.

He called his fellow officers about him, and said:

"We cannot hold against the forces of the enemy; they are too strong, and I shall, in 15 minutes, ask the bugler to sound retreat."

"You all know I have a bad leg, so I shall start now."

In this urban age, all literate people should be able to make an interesting talk.

Florida's noted pastor, Dr. Paul Horton, of St. Petersburg, uses QUOTE magazine and mixes its humor, as well as current epigrams from famous people, into his superb sermon formula:

(1) Start out with a challenging text:

(2) Advance your theme via relevant stories (like Christ's parables);

(3) Make the audience laugh a few times;

(4) Work up their righteous indignation (anger);

(5) Make them cry, as you fade out in your peroration with a touching, relevant story or appropriate stanza of a suitable poem.

And if you beginners tremble, don't fret, for all speakers, even the professionals, are nervous at the start.

So hold your hands firmly behind your back or clasp the edges of the lectern till you relieve your tension via your vocal cords.

After a couple of minutes of talking, you become more poised and can then use your hands more gracefully in gesturing.

Beware of early, stilted gestures. And to relieve tremors of the hands as you hold your notes or sheet music, seize them with both hands and gently pull in opposite directions.

This stops the rattling of the paper!

Send for my booklet "Public Platform Psychology," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 25 cents.

Evidence backs up his hairy experience

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1974 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: What would you do if your husband came home with lipstick on his shirt, trousers, underwear and some on his neck, too? Also, Norbert has hairs on his coat, and they were a color like nobody in our family has. [Looks like a redhead.]

I questioned him, and he swore up and down he didn't know how any of this stuff got there.

Norbert works in an office with just one woman. I've never met her, but he says she's as homely as a mud fence. I want to trust him, but with all this evidence, how can I?

UPSET IN PHILADELPHIA

DEAR UPSET: First I'd find out if this "mud fence" has red hair. If she has, I'd suspect that she was close enough to Norbert to transfer the above-mentioned evidence. [P.S. Any man who comes home in that shape can plead "insanity" and get away with it.]

DEAR ABBY: I am in prison serving a 10-year sentence for the death of my wife. I did a terrible thing which will follow me for the rest of my life.

I have two children, 6 and 4. I love them very much. In fact, that is what led to my killing my wife. I thought she was neglecting them, so I put a gun to her head—only meaning to scare her, but I killed her. God help me, Abby. I never meant to kill her.

My problem concerns my children. They are living in a foster home now, but before then, my wife's parents kept them, and naturally they told the kids what happened to their mother but I don't think the kids fully understood it.

The foster parents were advised by a priest to tell the children something about death, so they were told their mother got sick and the angels came and took her away. They seem to accept her death, but they have been asking to visit me. They know I am "locked up." If they come here what shall I tell them? A NUMBER IN MARYLAND

DEAR NUMBER: Don't lie. Tell them you are being punished because while you meant only to "scare" their mother, you accidentally killed her. [It's true.] With proper counseling, your children will grow to understand your part in this tragedy, and hopefully, they will harbor no bitterness or hate in their hearts for you. God bless.

To Whom It May Concern,

In view of the short time that you and I have to live upon the face of this earth, I felt that I should inform you of an important event, which will seriously affect your eternal soul. Because your soul is eternal and this life is allotted to you for preparing that soul for death (physically), it is important that you make adequate provisions for your soul after physical death because it will continue. Your soul will continue on after death in one of two places, it will dwell in HELL or in HEAVEN depending upon your actions now. In view of these alternatives you must surely seek to escape HELL and enter HEAVEN. To escape HELL you must obey the Lord, for in HEBREWS 5:8, 9 we are told that He (Christ) is the author of eternal salvation unto all that obey Him, this obedience requires FAITH, REPENTANCE, CONFESSION, and BAPTISM, nothing else will be acceptable unto the author of our salvation. If you feel that you will be accepted some other way or by doing something else, friend, you are sadly mistaken, and are yet in a lost condition.

Friend, I do hope that you will consider the things which I have said within this letter, your soul is the most precious possession you have.

TWO MINUTES

WITH THE BIBLE
BY CORNELIUS R. STAM, PRES.
BEREAN BIBLE SOCIETY
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS 60635

"Being born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the Word of God, which liveth and abideth forever" (1 Peter 1:23).

We are prone to think of death as following birth. People are born to live their lives and then die.

Spiritually, however, it is the other way. St. Peter, by divine inspiration, says that we must be "born again" because: "All flesh is as grass, and all the glory of man as the flower of grass. The grass withereth and the flower thereof falleth away."

"But the Word of the Lord endureth forever. And this is the word which by the gospel is preached unto you" (1 Peter 2:25).

This new birth is a spiritual matter, necessitated by the fact that by nature men are "dead in trespasses and sins" (Eph. 2:1). Thus believers are not born again in the same way as they were first born, but are born again — given new life, by believing the Word of God.

God's Word, in this passage, is called "incorruptible seed" — seed that cannot die. Once the Word takes root in one's heart, once it is believed and received, it never dies, but produces "everlasting life."

FROM DEATH TO BIRTH

"The Word of the Lord endureth forever, and this is the Word which by the gospel is preached unto you" (Vers. 25).

The Word of God takes root in one's heart only as one believes the gospel, the good news, about Christ's redemptive work. Peter himself proclaims this wonderful gospel: "...we were not redeemed with corruptible things, as silver and gold...but with the precious blood of Christ..." (1 Peter 1:18, 19).

"Who His own self bare our sins in His own body on the tree..." (1 Peter 2:24).

"For Christ also hath once suffered for sins, the Just for the unjust, that He might bring us to God..." (1 Peter 3:18).

By believing this good news, dead sinners are "born again."
